

About This Blog

What to expect A word from the Lord Development A Word From The Lord came about as a product of the long commute times in the Dallas – Fort Worth metroplex. We both share the same work schedule and a long commute to and from the workplace. As it happened, we would chat on the phone during our commute and inevitably our conversations would be heavily centered on what were currently studying. The free flow of biblical discoveries was too much to keep buried within our hearts and so we decided to share our discoveries with the world via a blog. – From God's mouth, to our hearts, to the world. Over time this idea evolved to include podcast Bible study lessons and other resources that will help us to become deeper rooted disciples.
